

(a) Individual workers' overlap with Google Translate. We removed the 500 workers with the highest overlap (shaded region on the left) from our analyses, as it is reasonable to assume these workers are cheating by submitting translations from Google. Workers with no overlap (shaded region on the right) are also likely to be cheating, e.g. by submitting random text.

